

HUNTING BLIND

Paddy Richardson

IT'S EVERY FAMILY'S DEEPEST FEAR

A sister's desperate search.

On a perfect summer's day, at a school picnic beside a lake, a little girl goes missing, leaving a family devastated and a community asking questions.

Seventeen years later her sister, Stephanie, is practising as a psychiatrist. A new patient's revelations force her to re-examine her sister's disappearance. Why are their stories so similar?

Unable to get the matter rest, Stephanie embarks on a journey to find out what happened to her sister.

Paddy Richardson is available for interview

Paddy Richardson has written two collections of short stories, Choices and If We Were Lebanese, many of which have been broadcast on Radio New Zealand. Richardson's work has also been highly commended in the Katherine Mansfield and Sunday Star-Times awards. Her first novel, The Company of a Daughter, was written during her year as the Burns Fellow at Otago University, Dunedin, 1997, and Penguin published her second novel, A Year to Learn a Woman, in 2008. Paddy lives in Dunedin, where she writes and teaches part-time courses in creative writing.

(c) Reatha Kenny

NZ release date - 1 February 2010

RRP $28.00 | Paperback | Penguin Group New Zealand

for further information please contact:

Lyn Olds | Publicist | Penguin Group (NZ)

DDI: (09) 442 7465 | lyn.olds@nz.penguin.com

